MOV NEWS
A Big Velo-City Thank You!

The MOV team would like to acknowledge the tremendous support we received from Vancouver's cycling community over the course of the Velo-City exhibit. As a result of the public's participation, the exhibit, along with its accompanying programs, successfully provided opportunities for conversations, idea exploration, and debate about cycling in this city.

We'd especially like to thank Toby Barratt, Nik Rust, and Pamela Goddard of Propellor Design, curators & designers of the exhibit.
